

ISO 9001 is the standard for quality management, and ISO 27001 is the standard for information security

HOW CAN ISO CERTIFICATION BENEFIT LAW FIRMS IN NORTHERN IRELAND?

ENHANCE YOUR BUSINESS WITH ISO CERTIFICATION FROM SGS

SGS is an international certification body with a leading presence in Northern Ireland’s legal sector for over 20 years. Our auditors have a wealth of knowledge and experience within the legal sector, auditing to multiple ISO standards, in particular ISO 9001 and ISO 27001.

ISO 9001

ISO 9001 certification is for quality management systems that can be integrated into any business. It is focused on ensuring the business delivers a consistent level of quality to its customers by having well defined and regularly reviewed processes and procedures.

How can ISO 9001 benefit your practice?

- Help reduce insurance premiums
- Meet tender requirements
- Help reach new markets
- Meet statutory and regulatory requirements
- Is an internationally recognized standard (recognized in ROI)
- Identify and address business performance risks

ISO 27001

ISO 27001 certification is for information security management systems. The standard is especially suitable where the protection of information is critical, such as in the legal, banking, financial, health, public, and IT sectors.

How can ISO 27001 benefit your practice?

- Keeps confidential information secure
- Provides customers and stakeholders with confidence in how you manage risk
- Allows for secure exchange of information
- Allows you to ensure you are meeting your legal obligations
- Enhanced customer satisfaction that improves client retention
- Manages and minimizes risk exposure
- Builds a culture of security
- Protects the company, assets, shareholders and directors
- Meet tender requirements
- Help reach new markets
- Is an internationally recognized standard (recognized in ROI)
