

Legal Aid is going digital

LAMS Training

The Legal Services Agency Northern Ireland is introducing a new digital Legal Aid Management System (LAMS) in April 2019.

When LAMS comes into operation the Agency will only accept online applications and requests. Paper applications and payment requests will no longer be accepted.

As we approach the go-live of LAMS, the Legal Services Agency is offering a total of 60 half-day training sessions for solicitors and their staff during February and March.

What does the training cover?

The course will be delivered by professional BT trainers. The training objective is to provide hands-on experience of using LAMS and give you an understanding of its relevance to you as a legal aid supplier. The training covers:

- Getting started on LAMS
- Submitting requests, such as applications and payment requests
- Searching for and viewing cases
- Keeping up-to-date with the progress of requests, such as applications and payments
- Communications between practitioners and the Legal Services Agency using LAMS

Who can attend?

Two places are available per solicitors' practice. You may wish to nominate one solicitor and one member of your administrative staff.

Places are likely to fill up fast and will be allocated on a first-come-first-served basis.

To secure a place at least one solicitor in your firm must have created his or her digital account on LAMS as that firm's account administrator. Please pick up one of our leaflets or go to our website for more information on how to do this.

There is no charge for this course.

How do I book places?

Please email lamstraining@lsani.gov.uk with the names of your nominated attendees, the name of your solicitor firm, and your preferred dates and times. We will endeavour to facilitate your first preferences, but please supply alternatives.

More information about LAMS and what you need to do to get ready, is available on our web site at www.justice-ni.gov.uk/topics/legal-aid/digitisation-legal-aid
