SHAPING A BETTER WORLD SINCE 1845

This is a time of unprecedented change and growing complexity in the area of employment law. Understanding these developments is of critical importance to those seeking to negotiate a surefooted pathway through the workplace environment. The IPLS is delighted to bring together a team of leading employment law practitioners, and two judges, to deliver a course which will provide a thorough grounding in the key components and latest developments in this highly specialised area of law.

WE WILL COVER THE FOLLOWING TOPICS:

- Overview of practice within the Tribunals
- Whistleblowing
- Equal Pay
- Advanced discrimination
- Remedies within employment context
- Advanced practice & procedure

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The course will appeal to those in both the public and private sectors: legal practitioners, employers, company directors, regulatory bodies, and HR professionals.

SPEAKERS

Judge Hamill
Conor Hamill has been an Employment Judge since 2019 and was Barnter specialising in employment law for the preceding 20 years. He qualified as a barrister in 1993 and for the first 10 years practiced in the civil and criminal courts with a growing caseload in the Employment Tribunals. By the early 2000’s this had developed to the extent that he practised almost exclusively in that sphere until his appointment. His work covered every aspect of employment and discrimination law, being instructed for both claimants and respondents. He was on the committee of the Employment Lawyers’ Group for several years and was elected chair of ELG in 2017.

Rachel Best BL
Having been called to the Bar in 2006, Rachel is an expert in high value, very complex litigation and is well known as a highly skilled advocate. She specialises in employment law, most notably discrimination, equal pay, protected dismissal, whistleblowing and harassment claims. She is regularly instructed on behalf of Government Departments and the Police Service for Northern Ireland. Rachel also has experience of presenting cases of professional misconduct and has a well established High Court personal injury practice.

Barry Mulqueen BL
Called to the Bar of Northern Ireland in September 1995 Barry has represented both employers and employees in complex, high value discrimination claims involving religious belief/ political opinion, sex, sexual orientation, race, disability, and age as well as unfair dismissal, breach of contract, TUE, equal pay, whistleblowing, restraint of trade, stress at work cases and employment related injunctive proceedings.

Paul Upton, Associate Director, Napier Solicitors - Head of Employment
Paul has over 16 years post qualification experience in employment law. He advises on all aspects of employment law, both contentious and non-contentious - with a special interest in discrimination matters. He acts for clients in the Industrial Tribunals and the Fair Employment Tribunals; the High Court; and the Northern Ireland Court of Appeal. Paul regularly provides training to clients on employment law and equality issues. He has presented courses on discrimination law for Legal Island and the School of Law in relation to employment law. He has worked with Chartered Accountants Ireland to provide employment law updates to their members. He also writes Legal Island’s Quarterly Education Law Update, which includes guidance for schools in relation to employment law issues. Paul is a committee member of the Employment Lawyers Group for Northern Ireland and is a member of the Employment Lawyers Association.

Emma McVeene BL
Emma has appeared in the Employment Tribunals, Court of Appeal and in front of Regulatory Panels. Emma represents both Claimants and Respondents and has acted as sole counsel in a wide range of matters including complex discrimination matters. She has experience of representing vulnerable Claimants and is well versed in Gallo adjustments. Emma serves on the committees of the Employment Lawyers Group in Northern Ireland. Emma is also called to the Bar of Ireland and has experience of advising in relation to differences between employment law nor Northern Ireland, GB and the Republic of Ireland.

Mary Kitson, Senior Legal Officer, Equality Commission NI
Mary qualified as a solicitor in 1992. She worked for a commercial law firm for 3 years before joining the Fair Employment Commission’s legal team. During her time with the FEC Mary worked as a Legal Officer providing advice and assistance to people who believed that they had suffered discrimination on the basis of race, religion and/or political opinion. In 2000 Mary joined the Equality Commission and was a Senior Legal Officer dealing with strategic litigation across all areas of equality law in NI, both in the field of employment and the provision of services. Mary has brought discrimination cases on behalf of Applicants in the Tribal Court, County Court, SENDIST Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court.

Mary also sits on the Committee of the Employment Lawyers Group and is a member of the Law Society’s Northern Ireland’s Human Rights and Equality Group.

Ryan Cushley BL
Ryan Cushley was called to the Bar in 2014 and practices primarily in employment law. He is a committee member of the Institute of Professional Legal Studies, and he is a committee member of the Employment Lawyers Group Northern Ireland.

Ciara Fulton, Partner, Jones Cassidy Brett Solicitors
Ciara is dual qualified and advises on all aspects of employment law in Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland. She has significant experience of advising clients on the full range of employment issues including complex discrimination and equal pay disputes, contractual and exclude issues, restrictive covenants, employment related litigation and TUPE. Ciara has been ranked as a leader in her field by both Chambers and Partners UK and the Legal 500 and is described as “excellent” and her work praised for her “practical and commercial approach”. Ciara regularly speaks on a range of employment issues at internal and external events and delivers bespoke training to clients on the differences between NI and RfI employment law.

Judge Murray
Odie Murray has been a full-time Employment Judge since 2009 and was a fee-paid Employment Judge for five years before that. She qualified as a solicitor in 1993 and spent just under 10 years in private practice during most of which she was engaged in litigation in the County Court and High Court and in employment law for a firm of solicitors which acted for a large Trade Union. She then joined the Departmental Solicitor’s Office and spent 12 years working in employment law and policy work for NICS departments. She was a member of the Law Society’s Human Rights and ADR committees for several years. She was also on the committee of the Employment Lawyers Group for several years and was elected chair of ELG in 2001.

Mary also sits on the Committee of the Employment Lawyers Group and is a member of the Law Society’s Northern Ireland’s Human Rights and Equality Group.
